STEAM Week – Digital Time Capsules

Issue number: 32 Friday 28th June 2024

In the week beginning 10th June, we celebrated STEAM week at Heber. Each year, the children take part in a number of special lessons to celebrate Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Maths. This year's lessons were all around the central theme of 'Time'. Classes from Nursery to Year 6 explored the theme in their own exciting ways, with fun experiments in Science and lots of timed exercises in Maths!

The final outcome of the week for each class was a 'Digital Time Capsule', designed to showcase our learning as well as give the people of the future an insight into what life was like at Heber Primary School in 2024. The children thought carefully about what their lives are like, what is in fashion now and what they thought might change in the future.

Many of the classes in KS2 used their technology and computing skills to build a website, which I know they are very proud of and excited to share with you. Please take some time to click on the links below and explore your child's Digital Time Capsule. (Please note: you may have to be signed into your child's Heber Google Classroom account to access the websites.)

Reception and Key Stage 1

Year 2 children produced lovely individual time capsules using their word processing skills, which can be found in the 'Classwork' section of their Computing Google Classrooms. Similarly, Reception and Year 1 have some great photographs of their activities on their respective Google Classroom pages.

Eco Committee Competition Winners!

Eco Committee have won the Get Set to Go Green plant-based burger competition!

A few months ago, Year 5 and 6 committee members worked with me to put together a recipe for a protein-rich plant-based burger that would be suitable for a Team GB athlete. Each burger had to follow the theme of a previous host nation of an Olympic Games - we chose Japan. This week, Green Cuisine (sponsors) contacted me to say that our burger was the winner of the competition, the prize being a cooking workshop with a professional chef AND a Team GB athlete! Well done to all in the Eco Committee for contributing to the result. Super excited for the prize – details to be announced in the Autumn term!

Year 6 School Journey – Oaker Wood

This week we welcomed back our Year 6 from their week away at their woodland retreat at Oaker Wood. The photos speak for themselves! The children had an amazing time; bonding, challenging themselves and developing their independence.

A huge thank you to Ms Farrelly, Mr Adams, Ms Whorms and Mr Rosko for taking them along and giving them this incredible opportunity.

Building Media Literacy in UK Communities

If you are looking for ways to build your digital skills and media literacy, then look no further. Everyday Digital is a programme from Parent Zone funded by the government's Department for Digital, Technology and Science (DSIT). Everyday Digital focuses on improving families' understanding of five key areas of media literacy:

1. Content: all the information and media we see or create ourselves
2. Data: the personal information we leave behind (or share) when online
3. Environment: knowing how to use and understand online spaces and platforms
4. Consequences: understanding the possible impact our online behaviours might have, including in the offline world
5. Positivity: knowing how to make online interactions and environments safer and more rewarding

Staying Safe on the Streets

A HUGE thank you to PC Grant who is part of the Goose Green Safer Neighbourhoods Team. He came into school today to talk to our Year 5 and 6 children about how to stay safe when they are traveling to and from school on their own. The children asked such great questions and were given fantastic advice.

This Week in Art

Year 1 are understandably very proud of their Fantasy Vehicles they designed and painted with added pastel and mark making details. Year 2 are also excited to see the final animal sculptures created for their Mark Making and Migration topic. Year 5 worked really hard on their perspective skills this week.
